Band Member Splits for Greener Grass

By Dr. Gonzo

All right, I'll say it; an incomprehensible decision by RJ Duke has left Duct Tape Todd searching for a replacement visionary to continue their prolific musical contributions to society. No logical reason has been offered to the band from RJ or his lawyers; which is funny since I was his only legal representation. Unfortunately, Yoko cannot be blamed for this latest musical departure. RJ has cited only one reason thus far for his insurrection, M-O-N-E-Y. Rumors of his unhappiness with the band's recent profit loss and lack of musical direction has led RJ to create another super band, called The Lids, also consisting of former members of Complicity. A recent visit to the Emerald City by band member number three (aka The Saint) resulted in this statement, "We've lost more members in this band than the unluckiest starfish." A dismayed Saint vowed to get back to his creative roots and fuel the band into their next studio record due out one week before The Lids set to embark on a Midwestern tour of local VFWs. I'd like to wish The Lids all the luck in the world and hope that RJ Duke won't get stabbed in the back by his new band mates. Et tu?

Lids Open Up

By Dr. Gonzo

Newly formed band, The Lids will open a string of dates with the local band Gaza Trip. They will be previewing brand new material from their forthcoming album which is currently in post-production. Lids leader RJ Duke describes the sound as roots rock. Former DTT band mate Dr. Gonzo describes it as pure shite.

Triton

We encourage submission of the riders own designs and specifications on how we create the board. A new website will offer riders the option to upload their designs and create their own board. Triton snowboards should be operational before the next season.

Zombies

*Zombies don't smile when it's sunny
But they grin when it rains, they have a flat disposition and dig open graves, they're employed mostly on the late shift but take overtime just the same.*

Zombies don't pay taxes or have savings and loan, they can't vote for president or get elected to the PTA, some were lawyers and died a horrible death, but most are like you and me, except they fancy brains.

They sleep in late and watch soaps on TV all day, their phone never rings and they never complain, they reside in a granite parking lots surrounded by fence and iron gate, It's to only keep them segregated, no artists against apartheid. (continued next column)

*Zombies can't fly planes, swim or drive a car, most walk on foot and don't get very far,
I hate running into them when that awkward silence creeps through, wishing them the best of luck seems trite and gravely untrue.
My sister lost her left foot, my daddy lost an arm, these goddammed Zombies everywhere, a couple took my mom, Big Tobacco loves them, they're always cancer free, won't catch the clap or have vitamin deficiency.*

Zombies don't read, write or surf the net for chicks, they'll never go to Malibu rehab like Hollywood stars, most only do feature films, or Sci-Fi flicks shot on Mars

There are a few with great personalities and charm, they can talk circles around some Mummies and never break and arm

One fault is their incongruous congregation in very large groups, they shuffle, shuffle, back and forth like a grey platoon of troops.
