California Exodus

By Dr. Gonzo

Big news has struck us here at Artificial Khaos and Salty Pear Inc. Don't fear, the band is not breaking up contrary to popular vote (probably the same blokes who voted for George W Bush); we are just relocating. The high cost of living and repeated ejections from Bay area Safeways (it's a long story, but I swear the Lucky Charms were already open) have created the opportunity for Dr. Gonzo, the West Coast/Bay Area Director to move the band up along the coast to the confines of the SUNNY pacific northwest and in particular, the Emerald City. A recent band meeting has defined the new direction of the band. We have decided to steal the new melancholy path of rock n roll out from under bands like Radiohead. The relocation to Seattle has generated interest in fusing early 90's grunge rock with reggae. After long deliberation and multiple trips to the bathroom, we convinced our LA Director (aka the Saint) to cave in. It seems he wanted to head down the illustrious and profitable road of boy band mania and bring in some new blood to Duct Tape Todd. In addition, since he lives in Brentwood, we were wary of making any sudden movements as he had on one soiled leather glove. He wore it the entire time. I may make a few phone calls. So the bottom line is the band will begin writing and arranging songs for the next grunge/reggae album of original Duct Tape Todd material. We anticipate getting the album out by Xmas, just in time for stocking stuffers. Duke will be doing all album cover and packaging art as his past experiences have been fruitful, although costly.

Travels with Charlie

By Dr. Gonzo

In the meantime, I will be traveling (June 30th) back to the great Midwest and North Dakota, which may just be Dakota by the time I arrive. Sounds like a warmer place already. It also sounds like one of my dad's plots. I will then be traveling to the great state of Alaska to join in the Gooch's battle against the current president. We will single handedly

* Alas, don't forget the BBQ and music festival at the Moulin Boudj occurring in July. Somebody tell Boudj we are coming over.

StocksUp

single handedly attempt to sabotage any of Bush's attempts of pilfering Oil from AK. Hopefully in the process we can roust any clandestine Republicans in the area, throw them in the truck and force them to drink Old Mil and smoke stale cigarettes. We aim to put Fear in their brainwashed minds. So Gooch, if you are out there, gas up the rig, put a diaper on Charlie, and fill the cooler with an 18 pack, we've got resources to save.
